Course Overview

The information on these videos is provided by Headquarters, U.S. Army Installation Management Command (IMCOM), G9 Army Community Service (ACS), and is for general information and educational purposes. The videos are designed to provide a better understanding of Army culture as well as the skills and resources needed to become a resilient, self-reliant member of the military community.

At the time of creation, IMCOM G9 ACS included the most up-to-date information and resources available. However, due to the ever-changing environment in the Army, some of the information and resources may no longer be accurate or complete. We encourage you to consult with your local ACS professionals for more information and the most recent resources.

The Family Readiness Groups (FRGs) module in the Military Knowledge videos should be given only a cursory review, as FRGs are now known as Solider Family Readiness Groups (SFRGs), per Army Directive 2019-17.

You will need to review all videos and referenced pdf resources by advancing through each section to get your certificate.
